EXPERIENCE

Mr. Theising has represented and advised both large publicly-held corporations and small private business clients in a wide range of legal matters. He has over 35 years of trial and appellate litigation experience, with first chair responsibility handling court trials and jury trials in state and federal courts, as well as arbitrations, throughout the country, and appeals to state and federal appellate courts, including the Indiana Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court. Mr. Theising has provided counsel, transactional services, and legal representation in litigation for clients in manufacturing and technology, food production, processing, and distribution, and the banking and financial services industry, as well as municipalities, governmental bodies, and state and local government boards. He has also represented clients from all segments of the real estate and construction industry, including public and private owners and developers, lenders, architects, engineers, design-builders, general contractors and construction managers, specialty and trade contractors and subcontractors, material suppliers and equipment lessors, and each of their respective insurers and sureties, in matters such as contract drafting and negotiation, public procurement laws and bid protests, design issues, differing site conditions, changes and equitable adjustments, delays, acceleration, disruptions, and other impact and inefficiency claims, construction defects and nonconforming work, suspensions and terminations, takeover, financing, and closeout agreements, warranty, indemnification, and subrogation claims, and lien, bond, and insurance claims and coverage disputes. Mr. Theising has broad experience with commercial construction projects, such as office buildings, hospitals and medical facilities, shopping malls and retail stores, and hotels and restaurants, as well as industrial and utility construction projects, such as power generation plants, mining and drilling operations, factories, steel mills, automotive and aircraft manufacturing plants, pharmaceutical laboratories and production facilities, and warehouse and distribution facilities. He also has extensive experience with public construction projects, such as universities and schools, courthouses, police and fire stations, libraries, municipal recreation facilities, stadiums and arenas, water and wastewater treatment plants, and military bases, munitions depots, and other secure government facilities, as well as civil infrastructure projects such as water, sewer and gas distribution systems, roads and highways, bridges, airports, rail stations, and transportation hubs. Mr. Theising is a past member of the Governing Committee of the American Bar Association Forum on Construction Law, and proudly chairs that organization's Diversity Committee. He is a founding member, Executive Council member, and past Chair of the Construction & Surety Law Section of the Indiana State Bar Association, and is also a past Chair and Steering Committee member of the Division on Insurance, Surety & Liens of the ABA Forum on Construction Law. He has served over 15 years on the National Panel of Commercial and Construction Arbitrators for the American Arbitration Association. Mr. Theising has also served on the U. S. Panel of Bankruptcy Trustees for the Southern District of Indiana for over 20 years, and has acted as a trustee or receiver in thousands of bankruptcy and receivership proceedings. He has
